Are you looking to stand out among your peers?

Employers are looking for people with global and intercultural experiences and the ability to solve problems. Study abroad fosters the development of essential transferable skills like critical thinking and adaptability. With enhanced empathy and self-awareness, you will be able to approach problem solving with a new perspective.

Business and economics courses abroad can challenge you to approach topics from a more global context. Your home institution may require that you take business courses at an AACSB-accredited institution abroad. Many ISA host institutions are AACSB or even triple-crown (AACSB, EQUIS, AMBA) accredited. Check out our accreditation chart for more information.

If you need help finding specific courses that you need to take abroad, visit studiesabroad.com/course-finder and our expert advisors will be in touch with you with some program options!
